FarmUP Program

The Connecticut Resource Conservation and Development Area Inc. (CT RC&D) cultivates partnership-driven solutions for a diverse and resilient Connecticut by enhancing our agriculture, natural resources, and economy.

The FarmUP Pilot Program is designed to provide one-on-one assistance to new, existing, and under-served farms and agriculture based rural small businesses with navigating the many programs and incentives available here in Connecticut. With a network of existing partnerships and experience with the agricultural support programs, CT RC&D has a track record of farm support experience through our CT Farm Energy Program. If you are in need of professional one-one-one assistance to navigate programs and funding options provided by USDA and other federal, state, and local agencies, please apply below.
